

58TH EUROPEAN CONVENTION

Akureyri - Iceland, 16-18 May 2025

KI-E President

Gunnsteinn Björnsson

Dear Kiwanis Friends,

It is my pleasure and honor to welcome you in Akureyri, commonly known as the capital of the North. The town has a rich history, it is surrounded by stunning landscapes and natural wonders.

You are arriving during my favorite time of the year, the Icelandic spring, when the migrant birds have returned after spending the winter in more southerly regions and all the nature has awoken from its winter sleep. Akureyri is located not so far from the arctic circle and in May you will have the opportunity to witness our season's variation in daylight. During the convention period, the days will be very long, and it won't really get dark, as the 24-hour daylight is only a month away.

For this 58th edition of the European convention, your Host Committee has put together a programme which will surprise and enchant us all! Alongside the official sessions, inspiring workshops and showcases, we will reinforce our engagement towards increasing our Kiwanis presence in Europe to help improve the lives of more children.

As we carry out our business and learn how we can improve our services, we'll be offering entertainment and fellowship activities where we can have fun and enjoy the company of our fellow Kiwanians.

The partner programme is sure to appeal to many, as it will lead them to discover this breathtaking and unique region of natural beauty.

Learn about our heritage! On Friday, part of our tour will take you to visit the herring fishing museum. The herring fishing and all other fishing have had a huge impact on Icelandic society, turning our nation from one of the poorest in Europe 100 years ago to being one of the wealthiest. I am sure the program will be both informative and entertaining.

Along with the entire team of the Host Committee and many volunteers, I look forward to welcoming you to this 58th European convention during which we'll have the opportunity to exchange ideas and experiences, spend some quality time with friends and shape the future of our organization.

Heartly welcome to Akureyri!

Yours sincerely
Gunnsteinn Björnsson

AUDITORS'REPORT ON THE 2023/2024 FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

We have been appointed as auditors of KI-E A.s.b.l., 4 rue Camille Mersch, L-5860 Hesperange (Grand Duchy of Luxembourg), in accordance with §13.3 of the articles of association of KI-E.

In accordance with the terms of our appointment, we have audited the accompanying financial statements of KI-E A.s.b.l. as of and for the year ended September 30, 2024, which show a balance sheet total of EUR 670,760 and an annual total positive result of EUR 13,006.

The financial statements for 2023/2024 are the full responsibility of the members of the KI-E A.s.b.l. Board. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our activities.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. It also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

We have obtained explanations and information necessary for performing our audit from the Treasurer. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of KI-E A.s.b.l. as of September 30, 2024 and of its results for the year then ended.

We still have explicit recommendations regarding the yet-to-be implemented start-up of a legal entity for KCF-Europe.

The result of the year 2022/2023 still has to be allocated.

My vision of Kiwanis: a large worldwide network of friends and volunteers joined in service to children and their community.

I believe that some topics are crucial to a successful strategy:

- Resilience (the capacity to recover quickly from difficulties and to find new opportunities).
- Growth, maintenance, rejuvenation: a planned strategy with clear goals to achieve results.
- Promoting the adoption of best practices: consistency and continuity in our actions.
- Impact and "Appeal" to attract young professionals.
- Innovation within tradition: Evolution YES, Revolution NO.
- Think global, act local

Key word: Continuity, awareness

Motto: Let's liberate our energies

Personal motivation

Today we stand here united, not as individuals, but as part of a larger movement that wants to change the world. We are here to share a message as old as humanity itself, yet as timely and urgent as ever: the responsibility to care for our community and especially our children.

Let's look around: The world we live in is characterized by challenges. From poverty and inequality to environmental degradation and social injustice, the list of problems is long. But at this moment we must not despair, we must raise our voices and act together. Why? Because we owe it to our children and grandchildren. Because we are the guardians of the legacy we inherited from the generations before us. Because we are the architects of the future that we want to build for future generations.

The call for a sense of community is not a call for passivity. On the contrary – it is a call to action. He calls us to rise up and use our skills, resources and passions for the good of those around us.

There is strength in community. If we join forces, we can move mountains. We can build schools to ensure education for all. We can build hospitals to protect the health of our communities. We can build bridges to overcome differences and create unity.

But that takes courage. It requires sacrifice. It requires the willingness to look beyond our own needs and interests and keep the bigger picture in mind.

It may be uncomfortable. It may be difficult. There may be moments when we fail. But let's remember: every single step we take, every contribution we make, every smile we give is a step towards a better world.

So I ask you today: What will you stand for? Will you sit back and watch the world go by? Or will you rise up and become part of a community that makes history? The choice is ours. But let us remember: In a world full of challenges, the greatest danger is not that we might fail, but that we would never try.

Let's fight together for a better world. Let's stick together. Let's be the change we want to see in the world.

Coming together is a beginning, staying together is progress and working together is a success!

Member Strategy Committee Kiwanis International-Europe (KI-E), co-author strategic plan KI-E (2023-2024)

Personal motivation

Continuity and continuous improvement are my drivers to achieve excellence in an organization. During the KI-E convention in Vienna, in May 2022, I presented a white paper on behalf of the European governors, advocating to develop a strategic plan for KI-E. This initiative was embraced by the board, resulting in an assignment by KI-E President 2023-2024 Josy Glatigny to the Strategic Committee to write a draft strategic plan.

That draft strategic plan was presented to the KI-E Executive Committee (EC) in March 2024. It is my ambition to continue to support the development of the KI-E Strategic Plan. I am convinced that, in the capacity of member of the EC as vice president and president-elect, I will be able to further develop this plan and have it endorsed by the House of Delegates to become a multi-year plan for KI-E.

With my experience in various leadership positions within Kiwanis, I believe I have sufficient knowledge and skills to fulfill this role. My broad international experience in my professional life will certainly contribute to this. I do speak Dutch, English, French and German. I worked for a multinational company (Philips Lighting) as R&D manager in the Netherlands, Belgium and China.

Let's team-up in Europe to enable clubs to continue to support children.

Personal motivation

First and foremost the work we all do for children in need makes me passionate about Kiwanis! And we are all concerned because by taking care of the children we want to prepare a better world for the future generations, the world of our own children and grandchildren!

The experience I acquired by the different functions I have held within KI-E enables me to identify some of the structure's strengths, as well as areas where I feel it could be improved. This enabled me to draw up an initial global action plan.

First of all, I think the European structure makes sense, as it enables us to act as an intermediary between KI and the European districts. That's why my first point of action will be to strengthen communication between KI, the Ghent office, KI-E and the districts.

Secondly, it should be remembered that the structure of any organization is only meaningful if it makes itself available to its base, i.e. the clubs. This means listening to the needs of districts and clubs, and providing them with the tools they need to address their concerns, in line with their effectiveness. This will be my second area of action.

Thirdly, I'd like to continue the work we've begun on a genuine long-term vision for Kiwanis in Europe, so that we know where we're going together and, above all, have continuity in our actions. Likewise, I believe it's necessary to reflect all together on our current operating model, which no longer seems to correspond to the operating model of the younger generation.

Finally, I'd like to get back to basics: putting the welfare of children in need at the heart of our actions, and the Kiwanians at the heart of our operations.

My global approach is structured on four chapters, but finally based on three major pillars: firstly, ensure that disadvantaged children have a better life; secondly, the leadership that will enable us to be more effective in our operations; and thirdly, the people and the friendship between all members, because it's by working hand in hand that we'll keep the pleasure of putting ourselves at the service of children.

I still remember Baden Powell, the founder of the Boy Scouts, saying that the only way to achieve happiness is to give happiness to others!

Let's just put this in action! Together we can !

Biography

I have been a proud Kiwanian since 1997 and, thanks to the support of my wife and children, have been able to hold many positions of responsibility. The highlights were my year as governor of the largest European District (Switzerland-Liechtenstein) as well as my year as president of Kiwanis International-Europe. During these years, I was able to get to know and appreciate many Kiwanis International employees.

Describe your Kiwanis moment – the moment you knew you were a Kiwanian.

In my 25 years of membership, there have been so many great moments that it is hard to pinpoint one in particular! I have seen so many children's eyes shine so brightly just because of our involvement!

Why did you decide to run for office?

Our organization is facing major challenges. Structural changes will probably be inevitable. In Europe, the process has already begun. As European president, I was very much involved in the reorganization sought and desired by Kiwanis International. I would like to bring this unique experience to the organization.

What qualifies you to become an officer of Kiwanis International?

My strength is that, in addition to being a former governor of the Switzerland-Liechtenstein District, I was also able to serve as president of Kiwanis International-Europe. Furthermore, as a business economist in the private sector and as a municipal president in politics, I have been able to acquire a great deal of specialist knowledge. Furthermore, I can communicate in several languages.

What do you hope to accomplish during your term in office?

For an organization like Kiwanis, it is essential to be active in all geographic regions and welcoming to different cultures and ways of thinking — knowing that these can sometimes represent a challenge compared to what is lived at home. We must succeed in breaking the negative trend. Basically, Kiwanis needs to become a more modern organization. We must stop being so traditional!

What strengths do you bring to the Kiwanis International Board of Trustees?

I think that teamwork is a strength that has the potential to be undervalued. The ability to work well as a part of a team — taking responsibility where necessary and deferring to others when required — is a skill I am proud to have. Throughout my career, I have worked with a variety of teams on a vast range of projects.

How have you helped open new clubs, engage new members and strengthen existing clubs?

You need to have a positive attitude towards Kiwanis and, above all, you should enjoy participating in club life. Only those who are happy with themselves will be more willing to get involved in line with the Kiwanis motto, 'Serving the Children.' With this positive attitude, you can approach new people every day and convince them to become part of the international Kiwanis family. More club members is the basis for stronger or new clubs.

Biography

Kiwanian since 2000. I served as governor of the Austria District in the centennial year and also as European president in 2021-22. At the moment, I am working diligently in the area of marketing for our district and to be a provider of ideas for new marketing campaigns, also in Europe. I have two grown-up children and a 4-year-old toddler. Married to Ruth, former campaign director/Europe. Professionally, I assist the unemployed as a trainer and mentor.

Describe your Kiwanis moment – the moment you knew you were a Kiwanian.

I was a Kiwanian from day one when my club made the decision to approve my membership. There has been more than one situation at different times over the years that has only confirmed to me that my decision to serve the children of the world was the right one.

Why did you decide to run for office?

Kiwanis needs strong leaders who understand both the Kiwanis structure and the mentality of other countries and their members. In Europe, there is a huge difference in members, both culturally and linguistically. This difference also exists in a similar form between the U.S. and all other member countries. My job is to continue to represent other points of view (other countries) on the board.

What qualifies you to become an officer of Kiwanis International?

My Kiwanis experience and my professional background as a marketing manager and trainer in adult education have already prepared me for the office of European president. Leadership roles at all levels (club, division and district) complement my profile to serve as part of the international board.

What do you hope to accomplish during your term in office?

If we continue on our current path, we will lose members in the near future, and our age structure will continue to age. Kiwanis is still mainly composed of members from the U.S., but the situation is changing from year to year, and we need to start listening to other countries and regions. Increasing and keeping members, securing our financial situation and delivery on our mission is my goal.

What strengths do you bring to the Kiwanis International Board of Trustees?

As president of Kiwanis Europe, I have come to know the concerns and sometimes the fears of all Kiwanians in Europe. Transforming this organization into a new organizational form and, at the same time, managing the coordination of different characters to consider different perspectives and being open to new approaches are just some of the many ways I have learned in my professional context.

How have you helped open new clubs, engage new members and strengthen existing clubs?

Since the beginning of my Kiwanis activities, I have not only been involved in finding new members, but have also helped to create several new clubs — including the founding of the first club in Nepal and as a charter member of one of the first international online clubs. As a trainer for Kiwanis, I motivate our members and provide them with the information they need for a successful membership.

Friday

09:15-15:15 Guided tour to Siglufjörður

Friday's guided tour will take you first to Hédinsfjörður, where its spectacular natural beauty is such that a photo shoot will be scheduled! Then on to Siglufjörður, Iceland's northernmost town and a historic fishing town whose fame and fortune have always been linked to the ebb and flow of the fishing industry. A tiny shark-fishing village in the 1900s, Siglufjörður soon became one of Iceland's largest towns and the undisputed capital of Atlantic herring fishing. You'll visit the Herring Era Museum and watch its show. You'll then walk to the Folk Museum Center to discover the enchanting world of traditional Icelandic music. After lunch, you'll head back to Akureyri.

Meeting point for both Friday and Saturday: Hof Convention Center

Saturday

09:45-13:15 Guided tour – Discovering Eyjafjörður

Surrounded by spectacular mountains, Eyjafjörður is the longest fjord in North Iceland. Rich in Icelandic culture and unbroken history that goes back many centuries, you'll be captivated by its extraordinary landscapes, its saga trails, some beautiful old churches and even an elf gallery!

In Brúnir farm, you'll experience the charm and skills of the Icelandic horses in their natural environment. After the show, you'll get to taste some local delicacies. You'll then continue your tour to Holtset farm where you'll get to enjoy some delicious home-made ice cream. You'll also get some free time to discover the surroundings and do some shopping. On the way back to Akureyri, you'll stop by Grundarkirka, a typical country side church made from wood in 1904.
